Descriptions

Villa La Vigie: A Historic and Prestigious Venue

Built in 1902 for Sir William Ingram, Villa La Vigie is one of the Riviera's most iconic residences. Overlooking the Mediterranean from its lush promontory, it embodies the Monegasque art of living, combining heritage, refinement, and exclusivity. Its story gained a touch of brilliance when it became the private residence of Karl Lagerfeld for a decade.

Nestled on the cape of the Monte-Carlo Beach and surrounded by landscaped gardens, this majestic 600 m² villa, spread over three levels, offers rare privacy just minutes from the center of Monaco. It features six elegant bedrooms, four bathrooms, one shower room, two dressing rooms, a vast 237 m² terrace, and a private garden of 223 m².

The interior spaces are distinguished by their generous volumes and refined décor: a monumental entrance hall with a majestic staircase, a luminous 40 m²+ living room, a stylish dining room, and a billiard/library room. Outside, a heated pool at 28°C and an elegant pool house complete the ensemble, designed to blend comfort, elegance, and conviviality.

Private Rental with Exclusive Services

When rented for private stays, Villa La Vigie becomes more than just a property—it offers a bespoke hotel-like experience in a truly private setting. A discreet and dedicated team is available throughout the stay: concierge service, private chef, housekeeping staff, daily breakfast served at the villa, valet service, and round-trip transfers from Nice Côte d'Azur International Airport.

Guests also enjoy privileged access to the prestigious Monte-Carlo Beach Club's facilities, including its private beach, restaurants, spa, and leisure areas. The villa is equipped with the latest modern technologies, from high-speed Wi-Fi to Apple TV-connected flat screens.

A Prestigious Setting for Unique Events
